The Spirit of the Lord
is upon me,
because he has anointed me
to bring glad tidings to the poor.
He has sent me
to proclaim liberty to captives and recovery of sight to the blind,
to let the oppressed go free,
and to proclaim a year
acceptable to the Lord.

(from the Holy Gospel according to Luke 1:1-4; 4:14-21)

There is a small detail in today's gospel which should not be missed. It says of Christ, "He went according to his custom into the synagogue on the Sabbath day." Observance of the Sabbath, the Lord's Day, has often been questioned in our age.

A recent op-ed piece in the New York Times spoke of the Secular Sabbath. The author had discovered what people of faith had known for centuries: he needed a day each week disconnected from the 24 hour digital overload, a day free of computer screens and cell phone beeps. He needed a Sabbath, a day of rest and relief, time to think and reflect not only on what but also on why.

God revealed the meaning of the Sabbath in the Scriptures when He himself rested on the seventh day of creation. Religious influence once pressured the marketplace to close and we had no choice but to observe Sunday relaxing with family and friends. But now it is up to us.

The lack of Sunday observance prompted the late Pope John Paul II to pen a remarkable op-ed piece of his own regarding observance of the Lord's Day. He stressed the relationship between the Jewish Sabbath, rooted in God's rest after Creation, and the Christian Sunday, celebrating the resurrection of the Lord.

Sunday, the Christian Sabbath, he proposed as having five distinct dimensions. It is the Day of the Lord, the Day of Christ, the Day of the Church, the Day of Humanity, and the Day of Days.

It is the Day of the Lord when we remember his creation of the world, the stewardship of which he entrusted to us.

It is the Day of Christ when he rose from the dead on Easter Sunday to reign with the Father and live among his people by the Holy Spirit.

It is the Day of the Church when believers gather in prayer. "Where two or three are gathered in my name there am I in their midst."

It is the Day of Humanity when we reflect on the meaning of our daily lives and restore the energy to live our dreams.

It is the Day of Days when we pause to reflect on the passing of time and the numbering of the days of our life.

In sum, it is the day when we see God as the center of our life and the center of our world, a day to experience in leisure the joyful meaning of life and love.

The Christian Sabbath reminds us that we have a responsibility to the world: to hope and to pray; to proclaim the Gospel; to share the Bread of Life; to practice charity; to point to God as the true focus; to model the right posture of human life which is turning toward God in thanksgiving. And for that, Christians need Sunday. O Happy Day!

Feast of St. Blaise

Wednesday, February 3

Throats will be blessed the weekend of January 30-31.

SAINT BLAISE

Little is known about Saint Blaise prior to his mention in a court physician's medical journal. The physician, Aëtius Amidenus, spoke of Saint Blaise's aid in treating objects caught in the throat. He was also mentioned in the book of Acts, where he was aided by animals and treated people and beasts alike.

Saint Blaise is believed to begin as a healer then, eventually, became a "physician of souls." He then retired to a cave, where he remained in prayer. People often turned to Saint Blaise for healing miracles.

In 316, the governor of Cappadocia and of Lesser Armenia, Agricola, arrested then-bishop Blaise for being a Christian. On their way to the jail, a woman set her only son, who was choking to death on a fish bone, at his feet.

Blaise cured the child, and though Agricola was amazed, he could not get Blaise to renounce his faith. Therefore, Agricola beat Blaise with a stick and tore at his flesh with iron combs before beheading him.

In another tale, Blaise was being led to the prison in Sebastea, and on the way came across a poor old woman whose pig had been stolen by a wolf. Blaise commanded the wolf return the pig, which it did — alive and uninjured — to the amazement of all.

When he reached Sebastea, the woman came to him and brought two fine wax candles in an attempt to dispel the gloom of his darkened cell.

In the Middle Ages, Blaise became quite popular and his legend as a beast tamer spread. He was then referred to as the "saint of the wild beast."

Many German churches are dedicated to Saint Blaise, sometimes called Saint Blasius.

In Great Britain, the village of St. Blazey got its name from Saint Blaise, and a church dedicated to the saint can be found in Decon hamlet of Haccombe, near Newton Abbot.

There is a Saint Blaise's Well in Kent, and the water is believed to have medicinal properties. A Blessing of the Throats ceremony is held every February 3 at Saint Etheldreda's Church in London and Balve, Germany.

A Catholic middle school was named after Saint Blaise in Bradford, West Yorkshire. The name was decided upon when the link between Bradford and the woolen industry was connected to the way St. Blaise was martyred: with woolcomb.

Saint Blaise is often depicted holding two crossed candles in his hand, or in a cave with wild animals. He is also often shown with steel combs. The similarity of the steel combs and the wool combs made a large contribution to Saint Blaise's leadership as the patron saint of wool combers and the wool trade
