(from the Holy Gospel according to Luke 9:28b-36)

The gospel for the first Sunday of Lent is always the temptations of Christ. The gospel for the second Sunday of lent is always the Transfiguration. Many wonder what the Transfiguration has to do with Lent. It seems more like Easter. In each of the gospels the story of the Transfiguration is sandwiched between two predictions of the suffering and death of Christ because the beauty of the Transfiguration and the burden of the cross can be understood only in terms of each other.

The Transfiguration occurs at a time in the gospels when the disciples suddenly realize that Jesus is a Messiah who will come to his glory through the cross. Placing the Transfiguration at this critical time in the faith of the disciples reveals not only the meaning of the Cross for Christ, but the meaning of the cross for his followers. And it teaches us that our suffering is not meaningless. We each have a share in the sufferings of Christ, which is inseparable from our share in the glory of Christ.

The famous painting of the Transfiguration by Raphael portrays that message. The top half of the painting shows a radiant glorified Christ, but below the transfigured Christ the bottom half surprisingly portrays a sick child surrounded by anxious people. What does this sick child have to do with the transfiguration? Everything.

In each gospel, immediately after the Transfiguration, Christ cures a sick child. Raphael placed that sick child in the painting of the transfigured Christ because the glory of Christ Transfigured is shared through the mystery of the cross by the sick child. Raphael's painting conveys the message of today's Lenten readings: as the sick child is part of the message of the Transfiguration, our weakness reveals the glory of God as much as our strength.

Raphael painted many religious masterpieces including Nativities, Madonna's, and Crucifixions. In his will he requested that one of his paintings be placed over his coffin. The painting he selected was his Transfiguration, with the sick child below the glorified Christ. Raphael died tragically in 1520 at the age of 37 . . . on Good Friday.

PLENARY INDULGENCE GIVEN WHEN VISITING A BASILICA

The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence by visiting a minor basilica. An indulgence is a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion and pray for the intention of the pope. ~taken from The Register, the Salina Diocese newspaper
