Repent,

 in the gospel.

(from the Holy Gospel according to Mark 1:12-15)

The Parish Office will be closed on Monday, February 19, in honor of Presidents Day.

The gospel for the first Sunday of Lent is always Satan tempting Christ in the desert. This is year B of the liturgical cycle when the gospel of Mark offers this brief account: "He was in the desert forty days, tempted by Satan. He was among wild beasts and the angels ministered to him." (Mk 1:12-13)

The gospels of Matthew and Luke, in contrast to Mark, present a scriptural debate between Christ and devil with three specific temptations: to turn stone to bread, to leap from temple, and to rule the world. Despite these differences, the fundamental idea in all three gospel accounts is the same: the Son of God overcame testing by Satan before he began his public ministry.

This year's reading from Mark offers these specifics: in the desert; forty days; tempted by the devil; among wild beasts; and angels ministered to him. The wilderness was probably the Judean desert where John the Baptist had been active. A desert experience is the traditional image of a purifying spiritual struggle to overcome sin and grow in God's grace.

The forty days recall the Exodus of the Old Testament when Israel wandered in the wilderness for forty years on their way to the promised land. It also evokes the forty day testing of Moses (Exodus 34:28) and of Elijah (Kings 19:8).

Satan's temptation of Christ is unspecified, the fundamental struggle between good and evil. This is the biblical image of Satan as the leader of all opposition to God's kingdom.

The wild beasts that Mark refers to are not mentioned in Matthew or Luke. It is from this reference that the lion has been designated as the symbol for Mark's gospel. Christ among wild beasts is an allegory of the struggle of his followers in the midst of a corrupting society.

The angels ministering to Christ when he was subjected to temptation is a reminder of God's grace strengthening Christians in their struggle to live free of sin. This contrast of wild beasts and ministering angels is an image taken from Psalm 91. "He will command his angels to guard you in all your ways; the lion and the adder you will trample under foot."

Satan tempting people to sin is a concept alien to many in our secular culture. But Christians are reminded on this first Sunday of Lent that as Christ was tempted by the devil, his followers should expect the same. Yet we are also comforted with the gospel reminder that amid the wild beasts and the temptation by the devil "angels ministered to him."

Following the 7:00 p.m. Mass on Monday, March 5, the Christian Mothers/Altar Society has invited Chase Kear to speak about his healing experience he attributes to Fr. Emil Kapaun, a Kansas native who served as a military chaplain and died in a prison camp during the Korean War.

Chase, a Colwich, Kansas native, was critically injured in a pole vaulting accident and attributes his healing to prayers asking Fr. Kapaun's intercession.

Fr. Kapaun has received the title "Servant of God" which means he is recognized as a candidate for sainthood, and Chase's healing is part of the information being researched by the Vatican. Chase will speak in the Church following Mass, and all are invited to attend.

The Christian Mothers will have a short business meeting following the presentation.

Prayer for a New Bishop

Heavenly Father, you have blessed our diocese time and again with good and holy bishops who have led us ever closer to you.

Aware of your profound love for us, we ask you to bless us once again. Send us a good and holy man to become our next bishop. Inspire us, the clergy, religious, and laity of the diocese to work generously with him so that we might grow together in your love and continue the good work you have begun in us for the sake of all.

We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God forever and ever.

PLENARY INDULGENCE GIVEN WHEN VISITING A BASILICA

The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence by visiting a minor basilica. An indulgence is a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion and pray for the intention of the pope.
