“For every one who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted.”

(from the Holy Gospel according to Luke 14:1, 7-14)

A veteran teacher watches carefully which seat a student takes in the classroom. It can indicate how the teacher must relate to that student. A pastor cannot help but notice which pew people habitually chose, perhaps from mere habit or hearing need or preferred view. In today's gospel Christ noticed the seat that guests chose for status at a social meal. He then observed that their effort to be recognized was counterproductive. "When you are invited take the lowest place so that the host may say, 'My friend move up to a higher position.'"

Old timers will remember pew rent and the annual auction of the church pews. In the vestibule of many area churches there was a board, "die Stifftafel," with a peg for each pew. One such board is still preserved in the vestibule of St. Francis Church in Munjor. Traditionally the back pew went to the highest bidder, the front pew to the lowest. Although one might rashly suspect other motives, this value system was cleverly justified by reference to this Sunday's gospel. "Take the last place, not the front seats. The last shall be first; he who humbles himself shall be exalted."

Humility is the most elusive of all the virtues. The parable in today's gospel about the places of honor at table illustrates the paradox of humility. Those who assumed higher places were embarrassed; those who took lower places were invited to a higher honor. Yet to take the lowest place, as a scheme to be invited higher, would not be humility, but a subtle form of pride.

Choosing a place at the table thus becomes a dilemma. If I choose a higher honor, I am proud. If I choose lower it may be seen as a ruse to be promoted, a false humility, and again I am proud. Choosing becomes an endless game of reverse psychology, like the infinite images in parallel mirrors.

How to resolve the paradox? Humility is never achieved directly. One does not become humble by trying to be humble, and those who think they are humble, almost surely are not. But when one seeks fundamental virtues – truth, honesty, and charity - humility follows as a result. Joy is found in much the same way, as a byproduct of other fundamental virtues. C. S. Lewis indicated this with the title of his book about his conversion, "Surprised by Joy."

We may not be able to define humility, but we know it when we see it, and we all know people who are truly humble. After the last conclave a journalist wrote, "Pope Francis is a miracle of humility in an era of vanity," and everyone knew what he meant and that it was true.

The opposite of humility is sensitivity. Most of us are just plain too darn sensitive. We take offense at every casual remark and any trivial gesture. Political correctness has a parallel in religious correctness. To be sensitive to an endless list of socially correct words or deeds is simply insisting on being first. It is pride.

When the old timers said factiously that the back pews were reserved for the humble they presented yet another paradox of this virtue: they were willing to pay the highest price for the lowliest pew because they were proud of their humility.

... .. and mirth

When the preacher finished his sermon there was a great awakening.

Children's Liturgy of the Word

The Children's Liturgy of the Word (LWC) begins again on Sunday, September 18, 2016! We are very thankful for the ladies who volunteer to support this ministry and are blessing our children with their time and talent for yet another year. Tammy Lichter oversees the preschool (ages 3 - 5) Liturgy of the Word along with Andrea Hoffman and Ashley Dome. The Children's Liturgy for grades K - 3 (ages 5 - 8) is overseen by Marge Rome.

The ultimate desire and goal is for children to better understand Jesus' message and appreciate the Mass readings through children's Bible stories, narratives and pictures specifically geared towards them and their age! The women who are at the heart of this ministry have created a warm and inviting atmosphere; we welcome all children grades preschool through 3rd grade to participate. Children are invited to come forward to attend Liturgy of the Word following the opening prayer. Preschool gathers in the bridal room and grades K - 3 gather in the north sacristy. Children return to their seats and families for the Eucharistic Prayer. Children in grades K - 3 who consistently participate, at least twice per month, will also get to perform in a special Liturgical Service during the Christmas Eve Mass. This is exclusive to children in grades K - 3 who regularly attend the Children's Liturgy.

If your child would like to participate in LWC and/or you are interested in volunteering, please contact Jeanette Brungardt or Shirley Brungardt in the Religious Ed Office # 785-735-9244.

Help Requested for Engaged Encounters

Engaged Encounter is held five times per year at the Spiritual Life Center here in Victoria. The coordinators are in need of three or four Welcome Couples to greet the engaged couples on Friday evenings of the weekend, check them in and show them to their rooms. You would need to be there on Friday evenings from 6:30-8:00 p.m. only, perhaps only twice a year depending on volunteers. This helps the Presenting Couples, who in general are traveling over a 100 miles, to prepare to lead the weekend without rushing to get the engaged couples settled.

If you can help with this, please call Donna Juenemann at 785-735-9700. The next Engaged Encounter weekend is September 16-18.

Sportsmanship

The coach called one of his nine-year-old baseball players aside and asked, “Do you understand what cooperation is? What a team is?”

“Yes, coach,” replied the boy.

“Do you understand that what matters is we win or lose as a team?”

The boy nodded yes.

The coach continued, “I’m sure you know, when an out is called, you shouldn’t argue, curse, attack the umpire, or call him a stupid jerk or dumb idiot. Do you understand all that?”

Again, the boy nodded yes.

“And when I take you out of the game so that another boy gets a chance to play, it’s not good sportsmanship to call your coach a space cadet or ask him where he has his head stuck, is it?”

“No, coach.”

“Good,” said the coach, “Now, go over there and explain all that to your Grandmother!”
