Jesus said to Simon: "Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching men."

When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him.

from the Gospel according to Luke: 5:1-11

Fishers of Men

G.K. Chesterton once remarked that he was blessed with a faith so secure that he believed all the gospel miracles despite the fact that they were told to us by fishermen. Aside from the amusing mendacity of fishermen, there are helpful reflections on why Christ chose fishermen to be his apostles.

In gospel times fishermen were rugged, uneducated laborers with few social graces and fewer communication skills. There were many priests, rabbis, and elders trained in religious matters, yet Christ by-passed those well qualified candidates and chose twelve simple fishermen.

Why? Perhaps the fishermen had no preconceived ideas about the Messiah, unlike the rabbis and priests who thought they knew everything about the promised Savior. The laborers lack of religious training and communication skills illustrates that the spreading of the gospel does not depend upon their skills or talents, but on the grace of God acting through them. The spread of Christianity has defied all the odds. It still amazes historians.

There is also the analogy between fishing and faith. Landing fish and leading people to God follow similar patterns. The fish are hidden from view, as is the human soul; the net must be cast to gather the fish, as the word of God must be spread to the people. The fish are lured with bait, as the truth of the gospel attracts the spiritually hungry.

There are lessons here for modern Christians. Many today have a religious inferiority complex, a low religious self-esteem. Too many sell themselves short spiritually. They feel that their lack of formal religious training disqualifies them from engaging their faith more seriously, both in developing their own faith and in using their gift of faith in service of others. Consequently, many enriching opportunities are lost: lay ministries, Bible study, renewal programs, and parish activities. The selection of apostles from common fishermen reminds us that Christian ministry, as well as Christian life, is for all the baptized.

Consider this interesting hypothesis: if Christ came again to choose anew his apostles, whom would he select? If today's gospel is any indication, the most likely candidate would not be a bishop nor a priest nor a deacon, but YOU. In a very real sense, every baptized Christian is an apostle. You were chosen not only to live the gospel, but also to offer it to others.

You are called to be a fisher of souls. Not a stereotypical fisherman who tells tall tales, but one who lives and speaks the truth of the gospel.

Sacrament of Confirmation received on Sunday, February 10, 2019

This sacrament was presided over by the Most Reverend Bishop Jerry Vincke at the Basilica of St. Fidelis in Victoria, Kansas.

“For these his servants, whom the gift of the Holy Spirit has confirmed:
That, planted in faith and grounded in love,
they may bear witness to Christ the Lord by their way of life,
let us pray to the Lord.”

Thank you to our freshman and sophomore catechists: John Braun and Yvonne Braun. You both are a light and joy to the Religious Education program, to our youth, and to our families. You bring so many gifts to your classrooms, it is no surprise that God has chosen you both to prepare our youth to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation and Gifts of the Holy Spirit!

May you both know how grateful we are for the many gifts you share with all of us.

CYO Gathering

Wednesday, February 13

7:30 P.M. (following religion)

Your CYO sponsors want to share the love with a meal and gathering, just in time for Valentine's Day!

Gather in Meal Site Room following religion. CYO will then be escorted to the Spiritual Life Center (2nd floor gathering space) for a meal and gathering. (Gatherings are shifting over to the Spiritual Life Center due to the large turnout — the space is much more accommodating.) :)

A parent and youth informational meeting was held on Wednesday, January 30. An e-mail was sent with important information pertaining to NCYC and how we are preparing NOW! :)

This e-mail was sent to all 8th—11th grade parents. If you want to know how your child (currently in grades 8 – 11) can attend NCYC this November and how they can get on board NOW with fundraising, please contact Jeanette Brungardt A.S.A.P.! :)

family MATTERS

THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY

A family is our first community and the most basic way in which the Lord gathers us, forms us, and acts in the world. The basic vocation of every baptized person is the same: "Follow the way of love, even as Christ loved you." The Lord issues this call to your family and to every family regardless of its condition or circumstances.

"Make your house, your family, another Nazareth, where love, peace, joy, and unity reign, for love begins at home."
- Mother Theresa

WHAT IS THE VISION OF CATHOLIC FAMILY LIFE?

Should Catholic families be different from other families, and, if so, what does that look like?

Five "Marks" of the Catholic Family, by Dr. Gregory K. Popcak

1. Catholic Families Worship Together—The Eucharist is the source of the deep love and intimacy Catholic families are called to live out. To celebrate this, Catholic families attend Mass together on Sundays and Holy Days, and actively participate in the sacramental life of the Church. Also, recognizing that we sometimes struggle to love each other as we should, Catholic families regularly go to confession to seek God's healing, grace, and inspiration to love more fully.

2. Catholic Families Pray Together—Catholic families are called to love each other with the love that flows from God's own heart. We can only do this if we ask God together to teach us what this means. Therefore, in addition to both our individual prayer life and our worship with our parish communities, we gather together for family prayer each and every day. We use our daily, family prayer time to: Praise and thank God for his blessings. Ask forgiveness for the times we didn't love as we should. Ask for the grace to love each other and the world better. Pray for both our needs and the needs of the Family of God. Seek God's will for our life. We treat family prayer, not as a duty or a chore, but as the key to true intimacy and joy in our home.

3. Catholic Families are Called to Intimacy—Most importantly, the Christian life is a call to intimate communion. Catholic families serve that goal by being schools of love where we learn how to love God and each other with our whole hearts, minds, souls, and strength. To do this, we constantly seek new ways to be even more open with and loving to each other as husband and wife, parents, and children. For instance, children are supposed to be the visible sign of the loving union between husband and wife. Catholic families live this out both in our openness to life and by working hard on the quality of our relationships with each other. To do this, we cultivate marriage and parenting habits that make each member of the family feel loved and valued and practice all the virtues that help us live life as a gift. For instance, we choose loving guidance approaches to discipline that teach virtue and good behavior instead of merely punishing wrongdoing. We schedule regular one-on-one time with each family member so that we can get to know each other's thoughts, feelings, and heart's desires on the deepest level possible. And we take an active interest in all the things that each family member finds true, good, and beautiful even when those interests don't come naturally to us.

4. Catholic Families Put Family First—Because our family relationships are the primary means God uses to help us become the people he created us to be, we treat family life, itself, as the most important activity in our week. We create and protect family rituals—like regular family dinners, time for prayer and worship, weekly game nights, and "family days," and regularly scheduled times for communication and relationship-building—that give us regular time to work, play, talk, and pray together. We hold these activities as sacred rituals of the domestic church and value them over all other activities that would seek to compete with them.

5. The Catholic Family is a Witness and Sign—We recognize that God wants to change the world through our families. We actively participate in this plan in two ways. First, we work hard to be witnesses of the love, joy, and intimacy that every human heart longs for. We'll share this love in good times and bad, in sickness and health, for richer or poorer. Second, we carry this love outside the home by serving our community in a manner that keeps our family together. We intentionally practice the corporal and spiritual works of mercy within our home and outside of it. We regularly talk about how we can do a better job of living out our family mission to be a sign of God's love in the world.

What can your family do to more faithfully live the Catholic difference?

PLENARY INDULGENCE GIVEN WHEN VISITING A BASILICA

The faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence by visiting a minor basilica. An indulgence is a remission before God of the temporal punishment for a previously forgiven sin. To obtain a plenary indulgence during a pilgrimage to a basilica, one must participate in any sacred rite or recite the Lord's Prayer or the profession of faith while there, then go to Confession and Communion and pray for the intention of the pope.
